

Joseph Freeman

Joseph is a gifted certified Hellerwork Structural Integration™ practitioner and founder of the Equine Natural Movement School. He worked in a clinical setting with people for many years and as a favor to friends, he worked on their animals. Over time the remarkable results he got convinced him that his true calling is work with horses. He created the Equine Natural Movement Series in 1995, began mentoring students in 1999 and has been training practitioners at his school in southwest Washington since 2001. He sees clients in the Pacific Northwest, Texas, Florida and other horse centers around the country.

Joseph's work has been written up in magazines. He is currently writing a book on his methods. He has skilled hands, a calm and patient manner and a deep love for horses. His work is well-thought out and thorough. Most importantly, horses enjoy working with him.

Read more on our website www.EquineNaturalMovement.com

• • • •

Sessions are 60-75 minutes
Cost $150 each session
$700 full series paid in advance
Owner-trainer must be present
Joseph@EquineNaturalMovement.com

Interested in a career with horses? Visit our website and click on Professional Training.

The Equine Natural Movement Series

Bodywork that honors and respects the horse's structure and spirit

Realigning physical structure for more

- power,
- efficiency,
- grace &
- speed

Joseph Freeman

(360) 687-8384
www.EquineNaturalMovement.com